Authentic Campaigns, a "Chicago-based progressive political consulting firm."[5] During your time working on behalf of Vice President Harris, Authentic Campaigns received over $7 million in compensation for its services.[6] According to your now-deleted LinkedIn, after Vice President Harris dropped out of the Democrat primary, you were promoted to President of Authentic Campaigns.[7]

Authentic Campaigns then conducted work for the 2020 Biden-Harris campaign, which included "digital paid media, design and development, social media, mobile messaging and artificial intelligence."[8] According to Authentic Campaigns' website, Authentic Campaigns sought to "[h]arness the potential of conversation AI for presidential campaign marketing to connect the Biden campaign with undecided voters in crucial swing states, particularly those unreachable through traditional means due to COVID-19 restrictions."[9] According to public records, the Biden-Harris campaign paid Authentic Campaigns just over $2 million in a one-month period for its work.[10]

On April 4, 2023, Manhattan District Attorney Alvin Bragg indicted President Trump with 34 counts of falsifying business records.[11] Since the indictments, two of Authentic Campaigns' top clients—Representative Adam Schiff and the Senate Majority PAC—have raised "at least $93 million in campaign donations" while referencing the indictments in their solicitation emails.[12] Notably, according to one report, Representative Schiff's campaign for U.S. Senate has received "$20 million in aid since he began soliciting donations off the presumptive GOP presidential front-runner's unprecedented 34-count indictment last April."[13] The Senate Majority PAC similarly has "pocketed $73.6 million since it also began firing off fundraising emails following the ex-president's indictment."[14] At a minimum, there is a perception that you and Authentic Campaigns could profit considerably from President Trump's prosecution in a forum overseen by your father.
